What's happening –

- We are going online! This means that eLearning is coming and we are genuinely excited for the opportunity this will bring for our customers. Due to launch in August!
- We will be able to offer both the traditional offline training which you currently receive with the option of moving to eLearning as its launched for your subject and training level.
- All theory training of our traditional off line courses will be delivered at a suitable venue of your choice.
- NI's website is worth visiting! This provides current news, information and resources to help you get started!
- Our training and fleet support services are available to everyone – private and corporate.

From the NI team, we greatly appreciate your time spent here and look forward to getting some traction with you. We invite you to take a look into our rural training & fleet support options below.

Investment Overview

All courses can be trained to NZQA unit standard level or non-unit standard (competency) based. We can help you with your business requirements offering our recommendations based on your specific work type to decide on which option would best suit your workplace or recreational applications. If none of these options suit your training or fleet support visions, than we welcome further discussion to design an event that suits your needs.

All courses are contextualised to meet any Standard Operating Procedures (SOPs) provided by our customers. Deliveries can also include any specifics by prior planning and agreement.

Our course pricing is structured by region in relation to Natural Instincts training base and includes all costs for delivery excluding practical venue fees (if any) and GST. Our course pricing is located on our website.

Please note:

- Prices indicated are reviewed where multiple jobs are scheduled to reduce un-necessary travel costs.
